Quotes

New Headteacher Peter Lynch expressed his pride in the students' achievements. "Our students have worked incredibly hard and showed our school value of being the best you! I would also like to extend my thanks to our dedicated staff, who always set high standards and have provided our young people with every opportunity to fulfil their potential. Ofsted visited the school in March and described their learning as 'scholarly', this is proof that this is the case. I would like to wish everyone receiving their results today every success whatever they choose to do next."
